

ROY CASEY
BSc (Hons) CEng FCIBSE

Chairperson of the Black Country Constructing Excellence Club

Chairperson of the National Clubs Steering Group

Director of Success Train Ltd

Roy has worked in the construction industry since 1972, having commenced work as a design engineering apprentice with a national Contractor. The majority of Roy's years have been spent with national and international Consulting Engineers working both in the UK and overseas. He has held many Board level posts in companies including Managing Director of FM companies and Continuous Improvement Director for an international M&E Consultancy. He now runs a business improvement and training consultancy working mainly with SME construction companies to support them in transforming the way they operate.

Roy is a visiting lecturer to the University of Wolverhampton's School of Engineering & the Built Environment. He also serves on Business Voice West Midlands's Skills Policy Group.

In 2001 Roy organised the inaugural meeting of the City & East London Best Practice Club which became the London Constructing Excellence Club in 2004. He served as an officer of that club until the end of 2007. In 2007 Roy also became Chairperson of the very successful Black Country Constructing Excellence Club. Roy represents the 6 West Midlands clubs on the National Clubs Steering Committee, as well as serving as Chairman of the Committee from 2009 to 2011.

Roy has been a regular judge for the London & South East and the National Constructing Excellence Awards.
